NOTES AND ORDERS.

Apparently there is no arrangement at present by which purchasers of copies of the Mysore Service Regulations can get addenda & corrigenda slips.
 Copies ^{of the M.S.R.} are distributed by the Supd.

of the Govt Press according to the list furnished to him by Govt and the A+C slips also are distributed by him according to that list. It is quite possible that there may be certain changes in the distribution of the ~~the~~ copies of the M.R. by any alterations or additions made subsequent to the date of the preparation of the list.

2. When the President was asked by the Comptroller to Govt for A+C slips he ~~made~~ made a reference to Govt and he was informed that the slips have to be obtained from the Office which supplied him with the ~~the~~ copy of the book. Now the President states that the book was purchased ^{in July 1907} for the use of his Office ~~for~~, apparently from the Curator, Book Depot and now requests that a set of addenda & corrigenda slips may be supplied to him. It is now three years

Since the book was purchased ~~and~~ There seems to be no arrangement by which A+C slips are supplied to purchasers of books.
Under the present system these slips are not priced at all and ~~it~~ so the Curator has perhaps to keep a list of persons who purchase ~~books~~ copies of the M.S. and supply slips to them from the number of slips sent to him from the Pres.
If according to the system prevailing in British India each slip is priced, persons who buy the books may pay for the slips also and let them to those to whom the book is given free slips may be also be given free

May the President be ~~suggested~~ asked to let the A+C slips from the Curator's Book Depot? ^{or a set sent from this office.} Sub for a set

Mr 3 The President may be asked to get the slips from the Curator who may also be asked what he does with the slips sent to him

10. Whatever the rate, it is most respectfully submitted, the three point is that all purchasers or those to whom copies are supplied get the slips assigned and keep their copies connected up to date. This is best done by means of inscriptions so that their names may be registered in the then office & slips sent to them as owned. If they have been sold once a year there will be the difficulty of knowing who have purchased copies in the interval etc. One suggestion was proposed as the part of India Charge 2 Rs per set each year. Their connections are not very dissimilar in size.
